Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

The only big Sunday afternoon concert scheduled for Kansas City this season is the one to be given at the Shubert Theatre Sunday afternoon, Feb. 13th, at three o'clock by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra with its full membership of 85 musicians, Emil Oberhoffer conducting and Cornelius Van Vliet the famous Dutch 'cellist as soloist.

This orchestra has never brought its entire membership here but once before, then it was heard in Convention Hall and those who were fortunate enough to hear this concert are still remembering it as one of the most perfect concerts ever presented in Kansas City. This great orchestra is making a tour of six weeks using four special cars, traveling on special time and will go from New Orleans to New York visiting the largest and most important cities in the country.

The fine pianissimo effects for which this orchestra is famous will be heard to advantage in the Shubert Theatre. This orchestra ranks with the greatest orchestra in the world and well it may, for it is sustained by a guarantee fund of $75,000 subscribed by the citizens of Minneapolis. This enables it to hire the finest orchestral players to be had who devote their entire time to the orchestra. Following is the magnificent program to be presented:

- Overture, "Le Carnaval Roman".....Berlioz
- Symphony No. 2, in E minor, Op. 27.....Rachmaninow
- I. Largo—Allegro Moderato
- II. Allegro molto
- III. Adagio

IV. Allegro vivace

3. Concerto for Violoncello No. 1, in A minor, Op. 33.....Saint-Saens

CORNELIUS VAN VLIET

4. Tone Poem: "Don Juan".....Richard Strauss

5. Dance Rhapsody.....Debussy

Something Good

Those who hate nasty medicine should try Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation. They are pleasant to take and their effect is so agreeable and so natural that you will not realize that it has been produced by a medicine. Obtainable everywhere.

Arthur Johns spent Sunday with friends in Wellington.

Mrs. Zach Keith and Mrs. Paul Frischer returned Sunday evening from a visit in Kansas City and Odessa.

The Best Recommendation

The strongest recommendation any article may receive is a favorable word from the user. It is the recommendations of those who have used it that makes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so popular. Mrs. Amanda Gierhart, Waynesfield, Ohio, writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my family off and on for twenty years and it has never failed to cure a cough or cold." Obtainable everywhere.

GET POSTS NOW

Proved Useless for Woods in Tests at the College of Agriculture. A fence problem is becoming serious each year, and the Missouri Department of the Missouri College of Agriculture has been testing various methods of meeting the situation. Probably the most successful plan for the immediate future at least, will be to use home-grown woods, giving them such creosote or other treatments as will increase their period of usefulness. A common and easy method of treating posts on the farm has been charring the butts of the posts. Charcoal cannot rot and a layer of it around the butt of the post should furnish very good protection. In fact, however, this coat of charcoal cracks so badly that the little fungous plants which cause decay are able to get through and shorten the life of the post.

Charring, then, will not enable the fence builder to use willow, cottonwood, sycamore, or black oak, so he must replace them with the more expensive white cedar posts, costing from twenty five to thirty-five cents apiece, or with the more durable mulberry, white oak, black locust, or hedge posts, which, in many localities, are not plentiful enough to supply the demand fully. The more perishable woods sometimes used must be replaced every two or three years, unless they can be preserved in some way. It is this deficiency that the College of Agriculture hoped to enable fence builders to remedy, by means of its experiments, but with the failure of charring it has turned to the use of creosote.

Charring failed to lengthen the life of willow, cottonwood, ironwood, hackberry, or basswood sufficiently to make them satisfactory post materials and probably white walnut, hickory, white elm, sassafras, and red bud are not helped much either, although tests with them have not been continued long enough to give much better results in case of black walnut, river birch, oaks, hedge, sugar maple, black locust, honey locust, Kentucky coffee tree, dogwood, black ash, catalpa. The sap wood of catalpa, hedge, black walnut, and black locust was almost completely burned in charring and, since the heart wood of these species is much more durable than the sap wood, but few kinds of wood are left which show any possible beneficial effects from charring.

Those who wish the benefits of the directions which the college is able to give as results of the uncompleted tests of the use of creosote and other similar preservatives should address the Department of Forestry, Columbia, Missouri.

Marguerite Clark Stars In "Still Waters"

Though there have been many songs extolling life on the ocean wave, and innumerable plays that picture the deeds and misdeeds of the socially elect, life on our inland waterways has seldom aroused the interest of the playwright. Hence, "Still Waters," the story of canal boat life and of the circus, in which Marguerite Clark is featured by the Famous Players Film Company on the Paramount Program at the Grand Tuesday, February 1, will prove of special interest.

A company of players spent three weeks on the banks of one of our great canals in order to get the scenes which show little Nesta (Marguerite Clark) and her old grandfather on the canal boat, which is their home. An entire circus was leased for the purpose of getting the action which transpires in and around the tent, when the ring-master, having marked Nesta for his prey, attempts to force his attentions upon her.

Miss Delia Trail of Kansas City spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Trail.

Dr. Z. M. Williams went to Marshall Friday on business.

I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.
